DR. WM. M. SMITH TO BE POSTMASTER

Nomination Sent to The Senate Today by the President.

HAS BEEN CONFIRMED.

Nomination of the Doctor Received With Decided Satisfaction by His Many Friends.

Dr. William M. Smith, president of the Virginia State Board of Health, president of the Board of School Trustees, of Alexandria, and one of the most prominent physicians of this city, was today nominated by President Woodrow Wilson to be the next postmaster of Alexandria. He will succeed J. Armstead Eggborn, the present incumbent, who was appointed to the position four years ago by President Taft and whose term will expire in April, 1914. It is not known at just what time Dr. Smith will take charge of the office but his appointment is effective at once.

His name was sent to the Senate at noon today by President Wilson. It was confirmed by the senate shortly before three o'clock.

Dr. Smith has been a resident of Alexandria for more than 30 years, during which time he has practiced his profession in this city. He has been one of the most active workers of the Democratic party and in every campaign has taken a great deal of interest in seeing that a large vote is polled for the party. He has never before held federal office but has held several important positions under the state government. More than a year ago he was named by Governor Mann as president of the State Board of Health, one of the highest honors that can be paid to a physician in the state. During the Spanish American war he was surgeon, with rank of Major, in the Third Virginia regiment.

The news of Dr. Smith's appointment will come as a complete surprise to many people in Alexandria. He has not been an active candidate for the honor and while there has been a rumor in circulation that he could secure the position if he would accept it, many of his friends were inclined to the belief that he would not care to accept the office.

There can be no doubt but that President Wilson's selection will meet with the unanimous approval of the people of this city. There is no man in the community who is held in higher esteem than is Dr. Smith. He is a man of broad culture, of the highest character and most genial disposition. He has had a long and varied experience in handling affairs of large magnitude.

Doctor Smith will be the third Democrat to hold the position of postmaster of Alexandria since 1861, when William D. Massey succeeded Turner W. Ashby, who held office under the Buchanan administration. Massey was followed by Nicholas P. Trist, who was succeeded by William N. Berkley. Later Louis McKenzie and David R. Windsor at times had charge of the post office. In 1885 William W. Herbert was appointed by President Cleveland. Park Agnew followed under President Harrison, and during Cleveland's second term C. C. Carlin, now Congressman, became postmaster. Joseph L. Crupper followed, and during Roosevelt's second term T. F. Burroughs was made postmaster. J. A. Eggborn, the present incumbent, was appointed by President Taft.

The President also sent to the Senate the name of James W. Green to be postmaster at Culpeper.

WILL NOT ADJOURN.

Mileage Causes Comment—Was Received Beforehand by Members.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Just at this time, while a lot of talk is being indulged in about the question of congressional mileage and the public is solemnliy discussing whether members of Congress ought to be allowed mileage for the special session, it is a fact worth some attention that Congress already has received its mileage for the special session.

Months ago members of the House and Senate got their mileage and either salted it down in bank or spent it.

Soon after the special session opened there was a distribution of mileage. The usual sums were allowed. The statesmen were not kept long waiting to receive their perequisite, as anyone can easily verify by consulting the records or asking any member of House or Senate whether he was allowed mileage for the special session last spring. Something over $200,000 was distributed on the basis of 20 cents per mile, the amount of mileage allowed by law under fictitious theory that men still travel to Washington and back to their homes in stage coaches and on horseback.

The fact that mileage already has been disbursed for the special session is peculiarly interesting in view of the talk that there will be no adjournment of the special session and no actual recess of Congress in order to avoid a mileage scandal.

The question which is now at issue is whether members will be allo their mileage for the regular session. Good authorities say it is doubtful as a matter of law, if it can be prevented. The law is apparently clear that members shall be allowed mileage for each regular session At the same time, the mileage appropriation may be made available for extra sessions.

If the law is followed with respect to mileage in the regular session, according to members who have studied the situation, the usual allowance will be made for the coming regular session. This is clearly contemplated by law. It is true that if Congress should refuse to appropriate there would be no way of compelling the appropriation.

"If Congress has not been paid its mileage for the special session," said a prominent member of the House today, "the question of paying mileage for the special session and for the regular session might be more properly raised. But the mileage for the special session having actually been paid, it seems clear to me as a matter of law that the mileage for the regular session is required regardless of whether the special session adjourns or ends just before the regular session begins the first Monday in December."

TROUBLE ARISES IN MEXICAN CABINET

Huerta and War Minister Quarrel as Congress Gathers.

DICTATOR'S SPEECH.

He Defends His Actions and Makes no Direct Reference to the United States.

Mexico City, Nov. 20.—As the hour approached for the formal opening of the Mexican congress that might easily bring on the apprehended international crisis Mexico City today was filled with reports of a violent quarrel between General Huerta, the provisional president, and General Blanquet, his minister of war.

The dictator and Blanquet were reported to be at loggerheads over almost every phase of government policy and an open breach between them was regarded as a possibility. This would be a serious complication at a critical time.

Optimists believed there would be no crisis in the situation today, because of General Huerta's action sending his son-in-law, Gen. Luis Fuentes, to the United States. Fuentes left last night. It was reported, but not confirmed, that he was on his way to Washington on a mission to the United States Government

A member of Huerta's staff gave to the foreign correspondents advance copies of what purported to be the speech Huerta would deliver in Congress. The address, first of all, is a defense of Huerta's course as provisional president. He tells his reasons for dissolving the last Congress and assuming the dictatorship. He says that his country faced a crisis which only force and determination could avert.

The speech makes no direct reference to the United States or any other foreign power.

Wants Insanity Expert.

Richmond, Nov. 20.—The employment of a State alienist who shall be consulting physician to the various State institutions for the insane, and who shall have general duties in regard to the education of the public in the cases and prevention of feeblemindedness, is proposed in a bill being drafted by Dr. H. U. Stephenson. The matter is now under consideration by the General Hospital Board, which will probably make special recommendations with regard to the creation of this office.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE.

Interest Manifested in Revival Services in the Second Presbyterian Church.

The interest in the special services now being held in the Second Presbyterian Church is growing, and the attendance last night was larger than on the preceding nights.

Rev. Dr. McMillan, of Baltimore preached an earnest and practical sermon from Romans vi, 22—"But now, being made free from sin, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life."

The doctor referred to the blessedness of freedom from sin, transfer of mastership, fruits of holiness, everlasting life, etc. He was listened to with close attention.

Mrs. William P. Woolls rendered a solo, "There were ninety and nine," during the evening.

Rev. Dr. Allison, pastor of the church, stated that persons in the audience who have become intrested in spiritual affairs could sign cards, which had been distributed, and hand them to the ushers as they passed out of the church. The pastor would call on such and afford encouragement and advice in regard to steps they might desire to tae.

MILD SPELL OF WEATHER.

Indian Summer Conditions of Yesterday And Last Night.

The mercury in the thermometer reached about 72 degrees yesterday. It was warmer for this time of the year than at any time in the history of the Weather Bureau.

Many believe the prevailing mild conditions presage a severe winter. They draw their conclusions from so-called signs.

Don't let this beautiful weather deceive you and keep a sharp lookout for much snow, ice and bad weather is the warning of the weatherwise, some of whom say they "feel it in their bones," and that their predictions never fail.

Othe signs are said to be the great quantity of nuts and the "early cold spell."

READY FOR SERVICE.

Steamer Newport News Leaves Baltimore for Washington.

After completing repairs and new work, the Washington and Norfolk Steamboat Company's steamer Newport News, left the lower yard of the Skinner Shipbuilding and Drydock Company Baltimore, today for Washington. She will be in charge of Captain Frederick Posey, though a force of engineers and firemen from the Skinner yard will work the machinery on the first run.

President D. J. Callahan will come over to make the trip, and E. L. Cole, marine superintendent, and Lieut J. W. Lee, of the Skinner Company, will be on board. All the changes have been made under the personal supervision of Mr. Cole.

Since being carried to Baltimore the nest of four boilers were removed from the steamer and replaced by new ones. The old boilers were cut in half by the blaugas machine at the works and taken out in sections, while the new nest, weighing about 40 tons each, were lifted in by the electric hoist attached to the shears. The steamer was also painted and decorated, the dining room and galley enlarged, and the saloon and staterooms fitted out with new furnishings.

The vessel will run on the route to Old Point Comfort and Norfolk with the Northland and Southland, one of which will be withdrawn for overhauling for summer work

It is said that the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company is contemplating running the Newport News between Washington, Alexandria and Norfolk as a day boat uext summer.

Gov. Mann Praises Negro's Work.

Hampton, Va., Nov. 20.—Governor Mann, of Virginia, made a strong plea at the seventh Hampton Institute Farmer's Conference yesterday for more co-operation between white and black men in improving farming and health conditions. He urged the colored people to use scientific and intensive farming methods. He heartily indorsed the work of the negro organization society of Va., which aims to federate existing colored organizations for better schools, better health, better farms, and better homes.

ARLINGTON FUND NEARLY COMPLETE

Part Virginia Took in U. D. C. Convention in New Orleans.

POLITICS ARE BARRED.

For This Reason There Was Opposition to Inviting Suffragists to Address The Gathering.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—Mrs. N.V. Randolph, chairman of the Richmond delegation to the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held in New Orleans, returned yesterday, bringing glowing accounts of the success of the convention and the hospitable entertainment that was accorded to all of the visiting delegates

Mrs. Randolph said that the Virginia delegation was ahead in the number of chapters organized, in the number of votes cast, and in the contributions to the Arlington and Shiloh monument funds. When the Arlington monument fund question came up Mrs. Randolph asked how much was needed to complete the monument and the grounds, and it was decided that $7000 would be required. More than $4 000 of the necessary sum was pledged on the floor, the Virginia division pledging its share.

Mrs. Randolph said that during the whole convention the daughters were urged to pay more attention to membership, not for its voting strength but for the history it could make. The educational report was magnificent, she said, and showed increase of interest along all lines. The question of raising an endowment fund of $50,000 for a chair of Southern History in the Teachers' College, in Nashville, Tenn., was referred to a committee after much discussion. The committee endorsed the idea, but thought it better to defer the matter until a later time. The report of the House for Needy Confederate Women, while most complimentary of the Home and its work, asked for longer consideration on business points, and was accepted, to be reported at the next convention

The historical report of Miss Mildred Rutherford was wonderful, said Mrs. Randolph, and was received in deep sympathetic silence. She pleaded that the children of the South be taught the history of the Southland.

Mrs. Randolph explained her stand against the invitation of the suffragists to have one of their number address sthe convention by saying that she was neither for nor against suffrage, but she did not wish to see politics creep into the organization.

Resolutions on the death of Polk Miller were sent to the president of the Virginia Division and were adopted by the convention.

KANSAS CITY TRAGEDY.

Dr. Elam Suffering From Remorse—Exonerates His Wife.

Kansas City, Nov. 20.—Dr. Elam, of St. Joseph, Mo., is charged with murder in the first degree after a coroner's inquest into the death Tuesday of W. Putnam Cramer, of Chicago, who was shot by Dr. Elam in a downtown hotel.

John Torpey, a hotel detective, testified that when he went to the room with Dr. Elam and found Cramer dead on the floor, Dr. Elam told him he had bought an automatic pistol just before leaving St. Joseph and had come down here to "get" Cramer.

Dr. Elam was not called to the stand. In a statement made at police headquarters just before the inquest the doctor showed intense remorse.

"I do not believe there was anything improper in the relations between Mr. Cramer and Mrs. Elam," he sad. "The shooting was one of those acts accomplished in a moment that wrecks the remainder of a man's life. If this matter becomes a question of showing wrong doing on the part of my wife, I had rather be hanged."

RETRACTS HIS CONFESSION.

Alleged Wife Murderer, of Weissport, Says it Was Suicide.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—Oscar Fritzinger, who is alleged to have murdered his wife by pushing her into the Lehigh Canal at Weissport, Pa., on the evening of April 13, 1906, and was brought back from Norfolk, where he made a confession, and committed to the county jail. Fritzinger was taken before Squire Snyder at Lehighton for a hearing, and a large cowd gathered at the hearing, but only few could gain admittance.

Asked by the Justice what he had to say, he started out by practically denying to what he had confessed last week at Norfolk. He said that on the evening of April 13, 1906, he and his wife were walking on the canal towpath, opposite Hiram Rickert's coal yard at Weissport, and that she began to talk about committing suicide and asked him whether she should jump into the canal and end all her troubles. Not thinking that she would take him at his word, he said he consented.

He says she then caught hold of him and jumped into the water, drawing him along. He struggled out of her grasp and got back to shore, and when he turned to pull her out her body had disappeared.

District Attorney Selzer has not yet decided on what charge he will try the prisoner. He was committed to the county jail by Squire Snyder on a charge of homicide.

M'GUIRE CONFIRMS STORY OF GRAFT

Witness Admits Truth of Charges Made Against Politicians.

THREE-HOUR ORDEAL.

Relentless Examination by Whitman in Exhaustive Inquiry to Lay Bare Corruption.

New York, Nov. 20.—George H. McGuire, pale and often weak of memory, whispered corroboration of charges made by John A. Hennessy against alleged grafting politicians, in a relentless three-hour ordeal of examination yesterday by District Attorney Charles S. Whitman. McGuire was the yesterday's sole witness in the John Doe inquiry, through which Mr. Whitman is seeking to bare corruption among Democratic and Republican collectors of campaign contributions from $300 or more contractors on State barge canal and highway work.

Hennessy, investigator of graft for Ex-Governor Sulzer, sat in the courtroom and heard the District Attorney force the unwilling witness to confirm charges of corruption made by Hennessy during the mayoralty campaign in New York City. Of none of these charges, however, could the witness speak of his own knowledge. They had come to him in the gossip of contractors and the small talk of politicians.

McGuire testified that he had heard forty or more charges of contractors being forced to make contributions, but would not give the district attorney the name of a single person who had given him information.

The witness corroborated his previous testimony that he had given $3,500 to William Sulzer, when he was Governor. Of this sum, he said, $2,500 was given "out of sympathy" last June, when the Governor sent for him and told him he needed money.

"After I had given the $2,500," McGuire further said, "I got to thinking it over, and concluded it was a larger contribution than I could afford, so I went to Arthur Johnson—he was the Barber Asphalt Company's agent. I told him I wanted him to reimburse me for some of it, if he felt that he could. As well as I recall it, Johnson said he would pay half. In any event, I got a check for $750 from him a few days later.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—Capt. A. M. Whitton, aged 40 years, of the United States naval collier service, died here yesterday from cancer of the stomach.

When the Spanish-American war broke out, Capt. Whitton commanded the British steamer Zafiro. The steamer was purchased by the American government and Capt. Whitton was employed as master. She was in Hongkong at the time and was ordered to Manila. Capt. Whitton brought his ship into Manila harbor, cut the Spanish cable, and furnished Admiral Dewey with a map showing the location of mines. He later piloted Dewey's fleet into the bay, leading the procession with his own steamer, the Zafiro.

COMMISSIONERS MEET

Fire Alarm System Again Before the Board—Peddlers Must Procure Licenses

The Board of Police Commissioners at their regular monthly meeting last night again discussed the proposition for the installation of a fire alarm system in Alexandria. There was an unnecessary alarm of fire yesterday afternoon which, like all others, caused loss of time to volunteer firemen, consumption of fuel, as well as wear and tear of apparatus.

The commissioners are of the opinion that Alexandria is badly in need of a fire alarm system. Commissioner Shinn said he had submitted a communication to the City Council relative to the installation of such a system, but had not yet heard anything from that body. He discussed the probable cost, and thought that forty boxes would be necessary.

Mayor Fisher promised to see the members of the Public Property Committee of the City Council and endeavor to induce them to place secure iron bars over the window at the south wing of the police headquarters. Three prisoners several years ago made their escape from police hadquarters through this window.

Following out the recommendation of the Board, the police hereafter will wage active war against peddlers doing business in Alexandria without having taken out the required license. All will have to pay the license or be subject to arrest and fine. This action will be taken to protect local merchants, who pay licenses.

Commissioner Knight stated that the Retail Merchants' Association had discussed the matter and thought the law should be more rigidly enforced.

The other matters before the board were of a general nature.

EXTENDING TELEPHONE LINE.

PROTEST AGAINST SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Protest aganst the present system of public school education was made by Dr. John L. Elliott, director of Hudson Guild, one of the largest and oldest social settlements in New York, in a speech at the annual meeting of Friendship House Association, last evening at the Raleigh in Washington.

In the opinion of Dr. Elliott the present system of public or fre education is weak and sadly in need of reform.

Dr. Elliott described the spirit of competition that prevails in the public schools. "Beating the other one out" he said, "is the biggest incentive offered the pupil of the public school."

Dr Elliott's suggestion is timely. The steam roller process often in evidence among the pupils to get head of the classes is not a sure sign of healthy mental growth. Youths have been compared to trees. Some are rapid in growth and require no attention, but they do not become the sturdy oaks which have consumed a century in reaching a perfection by which they withstand the blasts of Æolus long after other growths have succumbed to dry rot and storms.

The celebrated Dr Adam Clarke whose commentary on the Bible from a Methodist standpoint, is a classic with thousands, was a slow and dull scholar. While a pupil in a small school in the north of Ireland a prominent man in the neighborhood paid a visit to the institution. The pedagogue told his caller that he got along easily with all his scholars but little Adam Clarke—into whose head he found it impossible to get anything in the way of instruction. He could not, the teacher said, receive an education The visitor seeing the little boy shrink from the cruel notoriety given him, walked over to the alleged dull scholar, placed his hand upon his head and said, "Never mind; persevere, you may get there yet." The kinds words were inspiration to the boy, he persevered, and at the end of his school days was far ahead of many of his fellow scholars who laughed at his slow pace during his childhood.

COULD NOT STAND PRISON'S SILENCE.

A masculine specimen of the human race on one occasion attempted to prove that there were no women in heaven from a verse in the Bible. He quoted from the Revelation—"And when he had opened the seventh seal there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour."

The terrifying silence of the prison cells and prison corridors was more oppressive to Miss Madeline Z. Doty, a lawyer, and member of the New York State Commission for Prison Reform, and Miss Elizabeth C. Watson, investigator for the National Child Labor Committee, as reasons for their inability to continue as "convicts" at the Auburn Prison for Women, Auburn, N. Y., than the badly-cooked food or anything else they protested against.

The terrors of the "Temple of Silence," as a penitentiary is called, were, it seems, too much for these well-meaning women. Yet they should have been aware of the fact that silence is as a law of the Medeas and Persians in such institutions.

During the civil war Colonel D'Utassey, of the Garibaldi regiment, was sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary for peculation. He was a scholar, and when ushered into the prison he asked the keeper if all prisoners received the same treatment, as he was a man of letters and could speak six different languages. The heartless official replied: "We speak but one dialect here, and d—n little of that."

"Quotations Wise and Otherwise." (Communicated.)

One—"Go from home to hear the news."

Another—"A prophet is not without honor except in his own country."

And another from a signed communication in Tuesday's Gazette:

"I take the pains to protest a length because the incident seems typical of the attitude of numbers of citizens toward the struggle of the high school toward modern, progressive system and equipment."

And these familiar and often quoted lines from Julius Cæsar—"Why man he doth bestride the narrow world, like a Colossus; and we petty men walk under his huge legs, and peep about to find ourselves dishonorable graves." And these words from the wise, gifted and modest teacher and prelate, the venerated Richard L. Carne, in his twentith annual report to the City School Board August, 1890, when Superintendent, in a reference to Teaching," comments on "The occupation of the mind in other matters than those to which it should be directed" and "people who do not read educational literature or keep up their studies; whether it is because they think themselves so thoroughly competent that they cannot add to their acquirements," &c. And "I have always found that those who attend institutes (not for a frolic but with the resolution to learn all they can) and read everything on the subject of edcestion they can get hold or, are apt to make our best teachers" and "last year I pointed out the necessity for an extension of our courses of study, and by your action the principal of Washington School was allowed to confine his teaching to a first year high school class," and "I think the experiment was a success and that a high school for white boys now exists, and will increase," and "the example thus set, will probably be imitated to a certain extent in Lee school in the year which has just begun."

In the next year August, 1891 Father Carne says—"The time has now arrived when the establishment of a High School must be considered unless the sexes be taught together which is contrary to our practice, and, in my opinion, decidedly injudicious. We must eventually have four such schools; in any event we must have two (for whites.) Their establishment would cost far more than we can afford, especially now that we are unable to afford all the facilities needed for instruction in the lower and more essential branches of education." Richard L. Carne was "wise in his age and generation," and is thus quoted as above.

"Lest we forget."

TOOK BICHLORIDE OF MERCURY

Young Woman in Rochester Hospital Says Richmond is Her Home.

Bufalo, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Arthur Sterling, of Richmond, called Tuesday night at the Rochester, N. Sterling, who happened to be in Rochester on business, declared to the hospital authorities that he had never seen her before but he said there were many Sterlings living in and near Richmond.

Remedy as Bad as the Disease.

"On the seventh of February I contracted a severe cold followed by cough and final loss of voice. I tried many remedies none of which did me any good. I then went to my family doctor and he swabbed my throat five or six times with some abominable stuff. I think it was beneficial but the remedy was as bad as the disease. At last a thought struck me—why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and this morning my voice is fairly good and is gradually growing better," writes H. C. Clay, publisher of The Reporter Rapid City, Manitoba. For sale by all dealers.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

DECLARE LAW IS INVALID.

Argument Begun to Have Corporation Commission Rule on Disputed Act.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—Argument was begun before the State Corporation Commission yesterday to have declared, null, void and unconstitutional the act of the last General Assembly known as the "rolling stock bill," whereby the former law requiring the rolling stock of railroads to be assessed and paid at the location of the principal office of the company was repealed.

E. B. Buford Hill Carter and Randolph Harrison appear for the counties and town which would be the beneficiaries of the new act, while Richard E. Byrd, George Mason and C. Hamilton Graves appear for the petitioners to have the act declared invalid.

There are several railroad lawyers in attendance on the hearing, many of them having interest in the outcome one way or another. Principally, however, they are anxious as to what will be the result if they are not allowed to pay their taxes before the first day of December. If not, they are apprehensive that a penalty of 5 per cent. will be added. They are ready to make payment, but until the matter is decided, or an agreement is reached, no one will receive the money.

Yesterday's proceedings were devoted to discussion of the constitutionality of the measure Mr. Byrd holding that if the new act were held valid there is no manner whereby the taxes against the roads can be assessed or collected the new bill omitting that feature from its provisions.

KIDNAPPING CHARGE.

Louisa County Stirred Over Forcible Seizure of Robert Grubb.

Richmond Va. Nov. 20.—Louisa county is much stirred up over the kidnapping of Robert Leon Grubb from the home of Charles Oscar Grubb on the night of September 30, soon after dark. The mother of the child, Mrs. Nona Grubb is charged with that crime, and John T. Bellison is charged with being an accessory, with housebreaking and making a murderous assault on Charles O. Grubb. All these facts are set forth in a paper filed with Governor Mann and asking that Mrs. Nona Grubb and Bellison be returned to Virginia for trial. The man is under arrest at Frederick, Md., and the woman is under surveillance.

The application for the requisition, which was honored, states that Thos. W. Grubb married Miss Everhart some years ago, one son being born to them. Some time later the couple separated, the child being given to Charles O. Grubb and wife by the father. Then followed the kidnapping. It is said that Balliston drew a pistol after forcibly entering the house, dealt Charles O. Grubb a blow on the head with one of the two guns which he had, and then, as the automobile in which they came to the farm disappeared, he fired two shots to prevent pursuit.

Thos. Edwards, who has been given the papers left for Maryland to have Governor Goldsborough attach his signature to the documents, and will bring the couple back to Virginia.

FATAL FALL FROM BUGGY.

Sam T. Irby Meets Tragic Death When Young Colt Runs Away.

Danville, Va., Nov. 20.—Sam T. Irby, a well known man of this section, was killed yesterday morning about 8:30 o'clock when a horse that he was driving became frightened at a passing train and ran away, throwing him to the ground and breaking his neck.

The man was driving a young horse that he had refused to sell only the day before, but the animal was not considered wild or unmanageable in the least. Mr. Irby lived just a short distanec from Schoolfield and was operating a farm and this morning was engaged in doing some hauling. It is not known just how he managed to be thrown from the vehicle he was driving, but when he was hurled to the ground he received a deep wound in his temple, as well as having his neck broken. His death was probably instantaneous.

The man was 35 years old, was married and leaves a wife and a daughter 12 years of age. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irby, who moved from this city to Vernon Hill about two weeks ago. Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Misses Rebecca and Virginia Irby, of this city, and two brothers, Messrs. M. C. Irby, of Washington, and J. C. Irby, of Vernon Hill.

Sixty-five thousand workmen employed at St. Petersburg and elsewhere throughout Russia went on strike yesterday in protest against the trial of some employes of the Buchow Works who are charged with illegally quitting.

JUDGE WILLIAMS IN RACE.

Expects Support of "Drys" Will be Thrown to Him is Sanguine.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—"You can say that I am very much in the race for the position of Speaker of the next House of Delegates, and while I am making no claims of what I will or will not get in the way of votes, when the final vote is taken in the caucus, you will find that I am in the running."

Judge Martin Williams of Giles, leader of the last House, a vocate of the Statewide enabling act, patron of the rolling stock bill and aggressive Democrat is here. He made the above declaration to a newspaper man.

Judge Williams is too old a campaigner, he says, to be frightened by claims of candidates for the place, and he is making his contest for the honor just as though he was assured of the support of a great majority of the voters.

Judge Williams is expected to get the greater part of his strength from the dry men who are coming to the Legislature.

SEEKS DAMAGES FROM ROAD.

The C. & O., is Named Defendant in An Action for $10,000.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20. — Suit against the Chesapeake and Ohio road for $10,000 damages was entered in the Law and Euity Court yesterday by Mrs. Emma A. Smith, administrator of Lewis W. Smith, who, according to the petition, was fatally injured last January while alighting from a train at Williamsburg.

Smith, it is set forth, was a conductor on a train, and was in the act of getting off for the purpose of assisting passengers to the ground when he accidentally slipped and fell to the ground "with great force and violence" He died four days later from the effect of his injuries it is alleged.

The railway company is blamed for the accident because of alleged defective steps on the coach and also of alleged improperly constructed hand holds.

FATAL QUARREL.

Prince George Man is Killed in Dispute Over Bottle of Liquor.

Disputanta, Nov. 20.—John Downing, a well-known farmer of Prince George county, Tuesday afternoon fatally stabbed Moses Robinson, another farmer. Robinson died almost instantly after being stabbed. Downing escaped to the woods.

The men engaged in a quarrel over a bottle of whisky when, it is charged, Downing drew a knife and plunged the blade into Robinson's neck, inflicting the fatal wound.

The tragedy caused considerable excitement in the vicinity of Disputanta, where it occurred. Robinson was considered an inoffensive man and his tragic death is generally deplored in the community in which he lived.
